Malatesta Maison does not only acquaint its guests with the magnificent rolling landscape of Le Marche, but also with a touch of farmhouse chic. The Italian holiday home is the beautiful result of an accurate renovation that has integrally maintained the original building.

In the hills of Le Marche, between the mountains and the sea, lies Malatesta Maison, a unique collection of three houses. Owners Claudia and Carlo transformed a 600-year-old ruin into the perfect holiday home for lovers of tranquillity and nature. “Malatesta Maison dates back to 1485, when the Malatesta family from Rimini ruled over the territory. Referred to as Malatesta Village in old documents, the estate was built as a countryside holiday home on the top of a hill that is also still known as Malatesta. After a long time during which it was abandoned, Malatesta regained its original concept, becoming a rental villa.”

Malatesta is a complex of three houses (450 m²): in the main house there is a big living room and a dining room for twelve people, a professional kitchen, and three bedrooms. The other two houses include three bedrooms and a spa. Outside you can find a wide garden with big oaks and a large terrace where you can relax or sunbathe. Natural items, such as wood and linen, have been used for the furniture, combining traditional and modern styles of decoration and design. The five double rooms have a queen-size bed, a private bathroom, TV, Wi-Fi and a beautiful view of the Cesano Valley. The annex features a very spacious and cosy suite. There’s also a wellness area for personal relaxation that houses a spa with sauna, hammam and Jacuzzi. Outside, the new pool offers a wonderful view of the hills. “A private chef is available to prepare delicious meals for our guests. We can arrange massages, cooking classes, airport transportation, guided tours, a personal driver, as well as tours to some excellent wineries in the region. We also offer wine and olive oil tastings at the house.”

The holiday home is located in Montaiate, just seven kilometres from the village of Pergola and a stone’s throw away from the Adriatic Sea and the cultural cities of Cagli, Urbino, Gubbio and Fabriano. “Malatesta Maison is special because it’s in the wonderful Le Marche, a region that has yet to be discovered. A few miles away from us, you will find artistic cities such as Urbino, Fano, Pesaro and Sassoferrato. If you prefer nature’s majesty, the Frasassi caves, Furlo Pass, Mount San Bartolo, Mount Conero and the Sibylline Mountains will give you a complete picture of the Adriatic coast. In Pergola and San Lorenzo in Campo, you can find good food and wine. In Senigallia, half an hour away, you can find many excellent restaurants, two of which have Michelin Stars: Uliassi and Madonnina del Pescatore.
