

Contents

Helge Einfeldt:
Historical Review 1

Jens Møller:
Significance of Cardiovascular Disease 4
Establishment of EOCCD 6
Effectiveness of Testosterone Treatment 7
 Testimony of Specialists 7
 Case Studies 9
Nature of CVD 10
Factors Affecting the Heart and Blood Circulation 14
 Catecholamines 15
 Impaired Carbohydrate Metabolism 18
 Physical Activity and Stress 20
 Testosterone and Physical Training 21
 The Propaganda for Physical Activity 26
Issue of Clinical Trials 28
 Difficulty of Distinguishing CVD from Ageing 29
 Ethical Issues 30
 Difficulty of Evaluating Treatment 31
Clinical Findings 33
 Individual Nature of Treatment 35
 Doctor-Patient Relationship 37
 Lack of Pigment 40
Other Findings 42
 So-called Biochemical Risk Factors 42
 Influence of Testosterone on Connective Tissue 43
Prophylaxis 47
Medical Treatment 49
Testosterone and Plasma Lipids 51
Parameters of CVD 53
Conclusion 54
Appendix: Photographic Presentation of Patients with Gangrene 56
Summary of Biochemical Aspects Relating to CVD 63
Epilogue 69
Abstracts 73
References 77
Subject Index 83