

Table of Contents

Preface
F. Lolas, H. Mayer	V
Comparative Psychobiological Stress Research
F. Lolas	1
Population Density as a Stressor: Approaches to and Results of Research in the Social Sciences
J. Friedrichs and A. Mielck	12
Delayed Auditory Feedback as a Stress Situation
E. Röck	28
Stress Factors and Stress Coping Among Inhabitants of New Guinea
W. Schiefenhövel	33
Industrial Work and Social Risks
H.-J. Braczyk	44
The Effects of Some Physical and Psychosocial Prenatal Stressors on Early Development
J. H. Cullen and J. A. Connolly	63
The Concept of Stress and its Role in Disease Onset
H. Weiner	96
Life Change and Illness Studies: Past History and Future Directions
R. H. Rahe and R. J. Arthur	108
Stress, Psychosomatics, and Stress Coping from a Clinical-Psychological Point of View
M. Maderthaner	126

Verbal Behavior, Emotion, and Psychosomatic Pathology

F. Lolas	162
---------------------------	-----

Psychoanalysis and Stress

L. Janus	179
---------------------------	-----

The Inner World of the Individual and Stress

W. G. Lawrence	191
---------------------------------	-----

Death, Stress, and Life Itself

W. G. Lawrence	200
---------------------------------	-----

Conclusion: Perspectives on Stress

F. Lolas	209
---------------------------	-----

Subject Index	217
-------------------------	-----