

Content

Introduction.....	7
Hayet Amamou
Djaït on early Islamic history – Arab-Islamic primary sources and the writings of Orientalists	17
Moncef Ben Abdeljelil
Observations on Djaït's Revelation, the Quran and Prophecy	53
Nader Hammami
Hichem Djaït on the Quran as a source for early Islamic history	69
Hammadi Messaoudi
Hichem Djaït – Between the obligations of the historical method and the power of the sacred.....	91
Mustapha Alaoui
On the confusion of faith, science, and humanism in Hichem Djaït's Fī s-sīra an-nabawiyya	107
Soumaya Louhichi
On Djaït and modern prophetic biography.....	129
Mohamed Said
An analysis of Djaït's research into written sources for the history of Africa before the fifteenth century CE.....	157
Mohamed Kharrat
Elites and extraordinary personalities in Hichem Djaït's reading of Islamic history – The example of the Prophet Muhammad.....	193
Mondher Sakly
On the terminology relating to tribal elites in early Islam – Competition and social status	221