

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	v
1 Introduction	1
2 Identity and the Nation	5
2.1 Defining 'Nation', 'National Identity' and 'Nationalism'	5
2.2 History and National Identity	14
2.3 The Land and National Identity	21
2.4 Literature and National Identity	28
2.5 Narratives of the Nation	34
3 Lewis Grassie Gibbon, A Scots Quair	37
3.1 Context	38
3.2 History	46
3.2.1 Narrative Structure	47
3.2.2 Scottish and British / World History in A Scots Quair	53
3.2.3 Case-Study 1: The Covenanters	58
3.2.4 Case-Study 2: The Great War	69
3.2.5 Case-Study 3: The 1926 General Strike	84
3.2.6 Case-Study 4: The Hunger Marches of the 1930s	90
3.2.7 The Presentation of History in A Scots Quair	96
3.3 The Land	97
3.3.1 Conception of the Land	98
3.3.2 Representations of Life in Rural Scotland	104
3.3.3 Representations of Life in Urban Scotland	121
3.4 Conclusion	131
4 James Robertson, And the Land Lay Still	133
4.1 Context	135
4.2 History	144
4.2.1 Narrative Structure	145
4.2.2 Scottish vs. British History in And the Land Lay Still	158
4.2.3 Case-Study 1: World War II	159
4.2.4 Case-Study 2: The Stone of Destiny	173
4.2.5 Case-Study 3: The Miners' Strike of 1984/85	180
4.2.6 Case-Study 4: The Poll Tax	188
4.2.7 The Presentation of History in And the Land Lay Still	196

4.3	The Land	198
4.3.1	Conception of the Land	198
4.3.2	Representations of Life in Rural Scotland	207
4.3.3	Representations of Life in Urban Scotland	219
4.4	Conclusion	233
5	Comparison	237
5.1	Context	237
5.2	History	241
5.3	The Land	247
6	Conclusion	253
	Works Cited	257
	Primary Sources	257
	Secondary Sources	257
	Appendices	265
	Appendix A: Timeline of Historical Events Included in Lewis Grassie Gibbon's A Scots Quair	265
	Appendix B: Timeline of Historical Events Included in James Robertson's And the Land Lay Still	282