

Table of Contents

Preface.....	VII
 Introduction: On the First Apocalypse of James	 1
A. Ideologies of Power and Sexual Difference in the Arena.....	2
B. Orthodoxy and Heresy.....	6
C. Martyrdom.....	9
D. Sexual Difference.....	13
E. Manuscript and Dating.....	17
F. Structure of the Book	22
 Chapter 1: Preparation for Martyrdom.....	 27
A. Preparation for Martyrdom as Genre.....	28
B. James' Preparation for Martyrdom	32
C. Fear and Knowledge in Ancient Philosophy	34
D. Practices of Understanding and Effective Theology	37
I. A Ritual of Preparation for Death	40
II. The Dialogue Setting	42
III. An Effective Death	43
 Chapter 2: Discourses of Martyrdom and Docetism.....	 47

A. The “Docetic” Second Treatise of the Great Seth	48
B. “Docetism” as a Question of Anthropology	53
I. Explaining Clement’s “Docetism”	54
II. A Rejection of the Terminology of “Docetism”	56
III. How Are Martyrdom, Christology, and Anthropology Linked?	57
C. The Missing Martyrdom of James	61
I. The Confession in the Heavens.....	63
II. Clement, Heracleon, and the Debates That Make Martyrs	65
 Chapter 3: Interpretation of Scripture.....	67
A. Readings of the Gospel of John.....	68
I. The Intertextual Gap: Ethics and Christology.....	72
II. Response to an Anticipated Source-Critical Objection.....	78
B. Readings of Scripture in the Passage on the “Seven Women”	80
I. Justin’s Dialogue with Trypho and the Christological Reading of Scripture	83
II. Ptolemy’s Letter to Flora and the Ethical Reading of Scripture.....	86
III. Women Disciples and the Ethical Reading of Isaiah 11.2–3	88
IV. The Ethical and Christological Reading of Leviticus	91
 Chapter 4: Sexual Difference and the Sophia-Christ Dilemma	95
A. Sexual Difference in Theology.....	101
I. Sexual Difference and Protology in Valentinian Thought	102
II. The Excerpts from Theodotus and the Multiple Sophias	105
III. The Adam-Christ Typology	108
B. The Sophia-Christ Dilemma	111
 Chapter 5: The Seven Women Whom All the Generations Bless	117
A. Identifying and Counting the Seven Women (Or Is It Six?)	120

B. The Work of Femaleness	122
I. The “Works of Femaleness” in Clement and the Dialogue of the Savior	124
II. A New Interpretation of “The Work of Femaleness”	129
III. Not Merely a Scribal Error?	131
C. The Three Women Martyrs and the Power of Imitation	132
I. The First Martyr, Sapphira?	134
II. Interwoven Imitations and their Implications for Sexual Difference	135
III. Articulating Sexual Difference toward a Social Purpose	137
Chapter 6: A Working Theory	139
Bibliography	145
Subject Index	159
Index of References	161