

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements. vii

What's New in the Second Edition. ix

1. Introduction: The Book Starts Here 1

2. The Evolution of Contemporary Media: Recalling a Collective Past, Sharing a Fragmented Present. 7

3. Corporate Colonialism: Why Ownership Matters 21

4. The Medium Is the Mass-Age: Revisiting Marshall McLuhan. 37

5. We're Not Here: The Cultural Consequences of All Me, All the Time. 49

6. Digital Identity: Options, Opportunities, Oppressions, Impressions 65

7. A Social Experiment: Digital Tech at Its Best & Worst. 81

8. Much to Lose: The Symbiotic Relationship Among Journalism, Technology, & Democracy 95

9. It Really Is a Thing: The Internet as Infrastructure 109

10. If It's Not the Internet, What Is It? The Web as a Collaborative Tool 123

11. From Neighbors to Followers: Rethinking What It Means to Be Part of a Community 135

12. Haves, Almost Haves, & Have Nots: The Domestic Digital Divide 149

13. Connectivity & Digital Disruption: The Global Digital Divide 161

14. Remixes & Mashups: Appropriation of Cultural Goes Digital 175

15. Yours, Not Yours: Digital Surveillance & the Privacy Paradox 187

16. Can't Put the Genie Back in the Bottle: Now What? 203

APPLIED SKILLS APPENDICES

Appendix 1	Digital Communication Etiquette	213
Appendix 2	Professional Use of Social Media	217
Appendix 3	Writing for Digital Media & Content Credibility Cues	221
Appendix 4	The Care and Reading of a URL.	225
Appendix 5	File Management	227
Key Concepts.		229
Index		233