

Contents

1	Follow the Course of the Road—The Preparation and Research Avenue	1
1.1	Keep Your Sales Funnel Well-Filled	3
1.2	Qualifying and Disqualifying	8
1.2.1	Does the User Base of Your Medium Match the Target Audience of the Customer?	9
1.2.2	Looking at Your Existing Customer Lists	10
1.3	Where Can You Find New Customer Potentials?	12
1.4	In Slices or in One Piece? Call in One Piece!	13
1.5	Calculate Your Ratios	15
1.6	The Importance of Trust and How it Arises	19
1.7	Knowing Your Customers	21
	Reference	24
2	Turn Right—Conversation Starter with Pattern Interruption	25
2.1	The Phone Call with the Head Office	28
2.2	The Phone Call with the Assistant	29
2.2.1	The Technique of the Counter-Question	31

2.2.2	The Expert Technique I	31
2.2.3	Expert Technique II	32
2.2.4	The Methodology of Universally Transferable Statements	32
2.2.5	The Please-Help-Me Technique (Benjamin Franklin Effect)	34
2.2.6	The Role-Reversal Technique	35
2.2.7	The Amazement Technique	36
2.3	The Phone Call with the Decision Maker	37
2.3.1	Step 1: The Conversation Opening with the Anticipation Technique	40
2.3.2	Step 2: Building Trust	41
2.3.3	Step 3: Addressing Indisputable Personal Facts	42
2.3.4	Step 4: The Reason for Your Call	43
2.3.5	Step 5: Ask for Permission to Conduct Needs Assessment	43
	References	45
3	Follow the Course of the Road—The Needs Analysis	47
3.1	The Goal Assist	47
3.2	Be the Doctor	49
3.3	Shut Up and Listen!	50
3.4	Gain the Customer's Trust	51
3.5	Who Asks, Leads	52
3.6	Top Sat Nav Questions in the Needs Analysis	55
3.7	The Power of Questions	61
3.8	The Popular One Asks Many Questions	62
3.9	Distance Zones According to Edward T. Hall—Each Question in its Own Time	62
3.10	Questioning Techniques in Sales Conversations	64
	References	71
4	Accelerate—Making the Appointment	73
4.1	Appointment with Reference Technique	74
4.2	Appointment with the Assumption Technique	76

4.3	Appointment Scheduling with the Perfect-World Technique	78
4.4	“I Can See You Through the Phone!”—Interview with Telemarketing Specialist Udo Peilicke	82
5	Diversions—Objections, Pretexts and Their Treatment	89
5.1	The Law of Six	90
5.2	The Objection Handling as the Simplest Process in Sales	91
5.3	Handle Objections. Not Pretexts	92
5.3.1	The Pretext Terminator	93
5.3.2	Objection Handling Techniques	94
5.3.3	The Structure of Objection Handling	94
5.3.4	The Astonishment Technique	95
5.3.5	The Conditional Technique	99
5.3.6	The Provocation Technique	101
5.3.7	The Wish Technique	103
5.3.8	The Disaster Technique	106
5.3.9	The Perfect-World Technique	108
5.3.10	The Scenario Technique	109
5.3.11	Eleven Objection Handling Techniques at a Glance	110
	Reference	113
6	No Speed Limit—Opening the Appointment with Trust Building	115
7	Route Agreement—Have the Customer Confirm the Need	119
8	Only a Few More Meters—The Presentation of the Offer	123
8.1	Distinction of Feature, Advantage, Benefit	124
8.2	The FAB Technique in the Sales Conversation	127
8.3	One, Two or Three Offers?	130

9      Caution—Danger ahead—Techniques for Price Negotiation
9.1    Is the Customer Bluffing?	140
9.2    Increasing Objectives Through Granting Discounts	141
9.3    The Blocking Technique	142
9.4    Unmasking the Offer from the Competition	145
9.5    The Customer has a Counteroffer—Detecting the Desired Supplier	146
9.6    Exploring the Willingness to Suffer through Renunciation of Performance	150
9.6.1    When the Customer wants to know the Price in Advance	156
9.6.2    A Well-Filled Sales Funnel Lets You Sleep Better	158
10     You have Reached Your Destination—Closing the Sale	161
10.1    Looking for Buying Signals	163
10.1.1    Verbal Buying Signals	164
10.1.1.1    Yes, I Want to Buy	164
10.1.1.2    The Customer Asks Questions	164
10.1.1.3    The Customer Asks for References	165
10.1.1.4    The Customer Shares his Opinion with You Unsolicited	165
10.1.2    Body Language and Nonverbal Buying Signals	165
10.1.3    The Buying Readiness Question	167
10.2    Closing the Sale with the Next-Step Method	168
10.3    Closing the Sale with the AREA Method	170
10.4    The Technique of Irrelevance	174
References	175

11 The Service Stage for Successful Implementation of objectives	177
11.1 Managing Too High Customer Expectations	178
11.2 Core Tasks of Advertising	178
11.3 The Design of Advertising Media—High Noon for Successful Advertising Impact	180
11.4 The USP As a New Customer Magnet	189
11.5 Asking the Customer for Service—Recommendation Marketing	192
References	202
Appendix	203