

Contents

Acknowledgements — VII

Abbreviations — XIII

Abstract — XV

1 Which liberation theology? — 1

- 1.1 Why write this? — 4
 - 1.1.1 Continuing existence of poverty and oppression — 5
 - 1.1.2 Continuing interest in liberation theology — 6
 - 1.1.3 Misunderstandings of various liberation theologies — 7
 - 1.1.4 The omission of existentialism — 8
- 1.2 Segundo's writings—a very brief survey of source material — 11
 - 1.2.1 Where to find the existentialism — 13
 - 1.2.2 Discovered treasures — 14
 - 1.2.3 Who else wrote about Segundo? — 14
- 1.3 A methodological approach — 15
 - 1.3.1 He saw salvation as a method — 17
 - 1.3.2 Hermeneutic circle — 17
 - 1.3.3 Methods can be liberative — 18
 - 1.3.4 Marxism as a tool (within a method) — 19
 - 1.3.5 Biblical interpretation & ecclesiology — 19
- 1.4 Segundo critique — 21

2 Building an existential basis — 24

- 2.1 Introduction — 24
- 2.2 Metaphysical and psychological foundations — 26
 - 2.2.1 Two opposite experiences — 26
 - 2.2.2 Metaphysical foundations — 27
 - 2.2.3 Psychological foundations — 30
- 2.3 The philosophical activity — 32
 - 2.3.1 Pure philosophy — 32
 - 2.3.2 Philosophy and existence — 33
 - 2.3.3 Existentialist philosophy — 36
- 2.4 Existential activities and poetry — 40
 - 2.4.1 Pure existential activity — 41
 - 2.4.2 Art and existence — 42
 - 2.4.3 Pure poetry — 44

2.4.4 Poetry and essence — 46

2.5 Immanent art — 48

3 Christian existentialism — 50

3.1 Humani Generis — 50

3.2 What must be rejected — 52

3.3 What must be assimilated — 55

3.4 The bad and good of existentialism — 57

3.5 Rejection and acceptance — 58

4 Understanding freedom — 61

4.1 Introduction — 61

4.2 Primacy of freedom — 64

4.2.1 Primacy of freedom in Berdyaev — 64

4.2.2 Primacy of freedom in Segundo — 67

4.3 The ambiguity of freedom — 71

4.3.1 Linear freedom — 71

4.3.2 Reciprocity — 74

4.3.3 Pluralism and apparently irreconcilable positions — 75

4.3.4 Pluralism and dualism — 78

4.4 Apophaticism and freedom — 82

4.4.1 Christological controversies — 83

4.4.2 Our first thoughts about God — 84

4.4.3 Neo-Platonists and German mystics — 86

4.4.4 Personal liberty — 87

4.4.5 The challenge of Kant — 88

4.4.6 Non-negative apophaticism in freedom — 88

4.5 Limits in the connection between freedom and existence — 89

4.5.1 Limited connection — 90

4.5.2 Ecclesial pluralism — 91

4.5.3 Liberation theology — 92

4.5.4 The role of praxis — 93

4.6 Conclusion — 95

5 Libertad, base communities and tape 24 — 97

5.1 Introduction — 97

5.2 Segundo's base community — 100

5.3 Tape 24—la libertad — 103

5.3.1 Freedom as a deception — 104

5.3.2 The price of freedom — 111

5.3.3	Barrier to freedom —	120
5.3.4	Distractions from freedom —	128
5.4	Conclusion —	132
6	Heidegger and existential grammar —	137
6.1	Heidegger entering Segundo's thought —	137
6.2	Background—Segundo's published analysis of Heidegger —	140
6.2.1	Justification for engagement —	141
6.2.2	The purpose of engagement with Heidegger —	144
6.3	La fenomenología de Heidegger y la teología (manuscript) —	145
6.3.1	Segundo's three points in Being and Time —	146
6.3.2	Defining phenomenology —	150
6.3.3	Theology and experience —	156
6.3.4	Revelation and existence —	163
6.3.5	Scripture —	169
6.3.6	Speech and existence —	171
6.4	Mature argument in Dogma (1989) —	174
7	Latent existentialism in liberation —	177
7.1	Dead corpse or living organism? —	180
7.2	Methodological problems —	184
7.2.1	Supposed influence and Marx —	185
7.2.2	Problems due to the 'end of history' —	188
7.3	From pathways to long journey —	193
7.3.1	Freedom and existence in relation to violence —	196
7.3.2	Dogma does not capture the absolute —	199
7.4	Conclusion —	203
8	Ideologies, faith, and freedom —	207
8.1	What kind of ideology? —	208
8.1.1	Other scholars & Segundo's ideology —	209
8.1.2	Restating the problem —	212
8.1.3	Marx/Marxism —	214
8.1.4	Materialism and appearances —	217
8.1.5	Transcendent data —	220
8.2	Values in language —	222
8.2.1	Bécquer's poem —	223
8.2.2	Language analysis —	226
8.3	Ideology and existentialism —	228
8.3.1	Consciousness-raising —	230

XII — Contents

8.3.2 Freedom's role — 232

8.4 Conclusion — 234

Overall conclusion — 235

Appendix I: "Existencialismo Cristiano" — 241

Appendix II: Sartre y Camus — 247

Appendix III: "La fenomenología" — 269

Works Cited — 343

Scripture Index — 357

Name Index — 359

Subject Index — 363