

Contents

Acknowledgments — VII

Yochanan Altman and Kathryn Pavlovich

MSR foundational research: An anthology of JMSR best papers — 1

Part I: Engagement with foundational contemporary management/organization issues

Bradley A. Almond

The “Acts” of Paul: Micro-processes and new institution creation — 15

Cécile Rozuel

Calling to the anima mundi: On restoring soul within organizations — 57

Christopher P. Scheitle and Amy Adamczyk

Divine callings: Religious sensemaking in the organizational founding process — 77

Part II: Workplace religion research informing mainstream management areas

Marie-Catherine Paquier

Buying monastic products, gift or purchase? — 103

K. Arianna Molloy, Bryan J. Dik, Don E. Davis and Ryan D. Duffy

Work calling and humility: Framing for job idolization, workaholism, and exploitation — 135

Mari Yang and Louis. W. Fry

The role of spiritual leadership in reducing healthcare worker burnout — 153

Part III: Approaches/methodologies of engaging core spiritual/religious principles/practices

Nicole Dillard and Christina M. Walker

Black mothers at work: A contemplative and anti-oppressive approach to dismantling workplace oppression — 179

Lasse Lychnell

When work becomes meditation: How managers use work as a tool for personal growth — 209

Kent D. Miller

Discernment in management and organizations — 233

Mitchell J. Neubert, Cindy Wu and Kevin D. Dougherty

Servant leadership from multiple domains and follower work behavior — 267

Brief biographical notes on the contributors — 291

Index — 295