

Contents

Acknowledgements — IX

Editions, Translations, and Abbreviations — XV

Introduction — 1

1 Approaching Nietzsche — 10

- Reading Nietzsche — 10
- The Gravity of Nietzsche's Concern — 11
- No Special Licence — 12
- 'It All Hangs Together' — 13
- Thematic Topology of Nietzsche's Texts — 14
- Literature Review — 20

2 Nietzsche's Political Economy: Conceptual Framework — 27

- Preamble — 27
- Why Political Economy — 27
- Why Nietzsche's Political Economy — 29
- Time Horizons, Scope, and Substance of Social Change — 33
- Challenging Discourse — 37
- Thinking 'Outside of All Social Orders' — 39
- Slave Morality and Political Economy — 42
- Silver Lining of the Coming Storm — 50
- Concluding Remarks — 53

3 Nietzsche and Smith on the Division of Labour — 56

- Introduction — 56
- Das Adam Smith Problem — 60
- Concerning 'the Poor Man's Son' — 63
- Nietzsche on Sympathy and Industriousness — 64
- Aetiology of the Division of Labour — 66
- Needs of Slave Morality — 69
- On Becoming a Science — 74
- Natural Law, the Final State, and the Felicity of Equilibrium — 76
- Sympathy of the Division of Labour — 82
- Nietzsche on the Division of Labour — 86
- 'What and Wither' of Man — 90
- State and the Division of Labour — 91
- Concluding Remarks — 95

4 Nietzsche and Marx: Political Economy of the ‘Upside-Down World’ — 99

- Introduction — 99
- A Word of Caution — 102
- Nietzsche and Marx at a Glance — 105
- An Outline of Overlapping Political Economies — 106
- Political Economy of Revolution — 113
- Bruno Bauer and the Essenes’ Conundrum — 117
- Marx’s Real ‘Atomic Swerve’ — 123
- Religion and Revolution — 126
- Changing Revolution’s Pivot — 130
- The Chimera of Private Property — 135
- The Power of Exchange — 138
- The Dark Side of Equality — 142
- Lenin on Class Consciousness — 144
- Silenus of Modernity: Weber’s ‘Terrible Wisdom’ — 146
- Concluding Remarks — 149

5 Nietzsche on Slavery: Overcome or Simply Abolished? — 153

- Introduction — 153
- Semiotic Roots of Slavery — 154
- Nietzsche’s Definition of Slavery — 155
- Slavery, Oikonomia, and the Oikodespotes — 157
- ‘Higher Men’ and ‘Rank-Ordering’ — 161
- Physiology and Psychology of Slavery — 166
- Abolition of Slavery — 173
- Capitalism and Modern Slavery — 180
- Concluding Remarks — 186

6 Nietzsche on the Perils of Debt — 190

- Introduction — 190
- Scope of Critique — 191
- Debts ‘to the Ancients’ — 193
- Conceptual Framework — 196
- Genealogy of Debt and Freedom — 197
- Debt’s Past, Present, and Future — 200
- Communal Origins of Debt — 203
- Debt Forgiveness — 205
- Debt and Capital — 207
- ‘Psychological Trappings’ of Debt — 209
- Concluding Remarks: Debt and Subjectivity — 214

7 Nietzsche's Critique of Debt Economy — 220
Introduction: 'Seven Skins' of Debt — 220
Writings during the Founders' Crash and the Long Depression — 222
Agency and Corruption — 226
Democracy's Debts — 231
Money and Banking — 242
Psychology of Banking — 247
Debt and Growth — 248
Physiology and Psychology of Growth — 250
Economic Growth and Human Development — 252
Modern Narrative of Growth — 254
Entropy of Growth — 257
Geopolitics of Slave Morality — 259
Precarious Traverse to a Less Industrious World — 266
8 Closing Reflections on NPE: In Search of Direction — 271
Assessing the Findings — 271
Slavery — 272
Debt — 273
The Division of Labour — 276
The Question of Agency — 280
Nietzsche's 'Positive Project' — 282
In the Direction of an Aesthetic Political Economy — 284
Parting Thoughts — 295
Bibliography — 299
Index — 331