

Contents

Preface by Barbara Hannigan	7
Introduction	13
I The Craft of Orchestra Conducting: Listening	17
II The Relationship with the Orchestra: The Powerful Conductor and the Humanistic Conductor	29
III With or Without the Baton	35
IV Musical Style and Interpretation	39
V Understanding the Form	45
VI Prosody	53
VII Rhythm, Meter, and Time	59
VIII Space in Music	65

IX The Choice of the Repertoire (with a note on Glenn Gould's Beethoven) 75

X Studying a Score 81

XI Conducting an Orchestra:
Practical Advice 85

XII The Relationship with the Soloist 103

XIII Maieutic Teaching, Projective Teaching
(with a Note on György Kurtág's Pedagogy) 109

XIV A Natural Gesture 119

Acknowledgements 125

Bibliography 127