

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction: Post-communist Encounters in Islamic Faith and Security in the Balkans	1
Mihai Dragnea
Chapter One: Constructing a New Threat: The Securitization of Islam in Post-war Kosovo	19
Joseph Coelho
Chapter Two: Islamic Radicalization in Kosovo: A Case in Multi-layered Identity	39
Henrique Schneider
Chapter Three: Salafism in Albania between Deculturation and Post-socialist Legacy	57
Gianfranco Bria
Chapter Four: Mainstream and Online Media, a Useful Tool on Fighting Violent Extremism in Albania	73
Iris Luarasi
Chapter Five: Building a Community Resilient to the Islamic Radicalism: A Case Study of the Muslim Community in Montenegro	103
Marko Savić and Almedina Vukić Martinović

Chapter Six: Risks for Islamic Fundamentalism and Radicalism after the Fall of Communism in Bulgaria Bogdana Todorova	123
Chapter Seven: Missionary Islamic NGOs in Romania: Da'wah Materials Disseminated among Muslims in Romania Cornel Andrei Crișan	145
Chapter Eight: Mujahideen in Bosnia and Herzegovina from 1992 until 1995 Mijo Beljo and Lucija Zadro	165
Chapter Nine: Foreign Fighters and Global Jihad in the Balkans: The Case of Bosnia and Herzegovina Michalis Marioras	183
Chapter Ten: Factors That Moderate Islamic Radicalization in North Macedonia Zhidas Daskalovski	201
Chapter Eleven: "Islamic Terrorism" in the Serbian Sandžak under Salafi Influence Darko Trifunović	221
Chapter Twelve: Beyond the Balkans: Islamist Terrorism in Europe with Balkan Connections Klemen Kocjančič	241
Conclusion: The Trajectory of Islamist Militancy in the Balkans John Nomikos and Joseph Fitsanakis	261
Editors and Authors	267
Index	275