

Contents

Chapter I

Introduction — 1

- The House is on Fire: The Far-Right in 1933 & 2022 — 1
- Islamophobic Ideology & Making Sense of the Contemporary, Global, Digital Far-Right — 6
- A Lay of the Land: Terminology & History — 10
- A Roadmap for Reading — 12
- References — 15

Chapter II

From Homeland, to Heimat, to Hindutva: Profiling Far-Right Islamophobic Transnational Communities on Twitter — 22

- Introduction — 22
- A Taxonomical Method for Identifying Users — 24
- From Hindutva to “Boy Moms” to Q-Anon: American Islamophobia — 26
- Germany First: The Ubiquity of German Islamophobia — 39
- Conclusion — 46
- References — 47

Chapter III

Digital Islamophobia in Play — 55

- Introduction — 55
- Saffronization, Islamophobia, & Whiteness: Hindu Nationalism Abroad & American Far-Right Politics at Home — 58
- Der Islamischen Republik Deutschland (IRD): Mosques & Misinformation — 66
- The Far-Right Gone Global: Islamophobia and Transnational Racial Possessives — 69
- References — 72

Chapter IV

Exporting Home-Grown American Islamophobia — 80

- Introduction — 80
- A Digital Cartographer’s Tools — 83
- Islamophobia From Global North to South — 85
- Conclusion — 100
- References — 102

Chapter V

Visualizing Networks, (Mis)Information, & Islamophobia In German Networks — 109

Introduction — 109

Circulating Hate-Speech: Fake News in the German Media

Ecosystem — 112

Content Moderation Failures and Opportunities — 127

Conclusion — 134

References — 135

Chapter VI

Islamophobia & the Crisis of Conspiracy — 145

Introduction — 145

Affective Symbols: Women, Children, and the Paranoid Patriarchy — 149

The Imagined “Islamification” of the State — 156

Quarantine or “Quran-time?": COVID-19 and Islamophobic Digital Discourse — 162

Conclusion: Digital Soldiers Waging Informational War — 164

References — 166

Chapter VII

Conclusion: Digital Soldiers & Cultural Warfare — 173

Index — 183