

Contents

Introduction — 1

- 1 Preliminary Remarks — 1
- 2 The research situation — 2
- 3 Aids for the Reader — 5
- Notes — 6

I The theological foundations for the dialogue with Muslims:

Statements by the magisterium — 7

- 1 The Second Vatican Council — 7
- 1.1 Nostra Aetate – a first look at other religions — 7
- 1.2 Dignitatis Humanae – Religious liberty in the name of human dignity — 8
- 1.3 Other declarations of the Council – humankind comes into view — 9
- 2 The official statements of the magisterium — 9
- 2.1 The pontificate of Paul VI — 9
- 2.2 The pontificate of John Paul II — 12
- 3 Further statements of the magisterium — 18
- 3.1 The magisterium of Paul VI — 18
- 3.2 The magisterium of John Paul I – few words on a permanent issue — 22
- 3.3 The magisterium of John Paul II – more than 25 years of involvement in dialogue with Muslims — 23
- 4 Documents from the Curia — 54
- 4.1 The Secretariat for Non-Christians – many legal issues between people — 54
- 4.2 Dominus Iesus: no more than humanly equal on any account — 55
- 4.3 And in conclusion human rights again — 56
- Notes — 57

II The Secretariat's Publications — 93

- 1 The beginnings of the Secretariat's work — 94
- 2 Publications of the Commission pour les Relations Religieuses avec les Musulmans — 98
- 2.1 Harmony and conflict — 98

- 2.2 A reference work on Islam – Information for decision-makers — 113
- 2.3 Joint prayer – with limitations — 116
- 2.4 Politics (and Law): Insights into Islamic Anthropology — 117
- 2.5 Experiences with dialogue on the eve of the third millennium — 140
- 2.6 Religious liberty as a topical theme — 142
- 3 Guides to dialogue — 185
- 3.1 Orientations pour un dialogue entre chrétiens et musulmans — 185
- 3.2 Guidelines for dialogue between Christians and Muslims — 197
- 4 Religions – Thèmes fondamentaux pour une connaissance dialogique — 214
- 4.1 Introduction through the “homo religiosus” — 214
- 4.2 Humankind’s striving for salvation – the basis of interreligious dialogue — 220
- 4.3 Humankind – open to a relationship with God — 223
- 4.4 Good and evil — 225
- 5 Religions in the World – a publication for international organisations — 231
- 6 Chiesa e islam – early John Paul II and his focus on Islam — 233
- 7 Meeting in Friendship – Messages to Muslims for the End of Ramadan — 234
- 7.1 The beginning under Father Joseph Cuoq (1967–1972) – burdened by the past — 236
- 7.2 Cardinal Sergio Pignedoli (1973–1979) – against the backdrop of real encounters — 237
- 7.3 Archbishop Jean Jadot (1980–1983) – materialism as a common opponent? — 238
- 7.4 Cardinal Francis Arinze and the great influence of Pope John Paul II (2000) — 238
- 7.5 Cardinal Francis Arinze (1984–2001): all about life worthy of humans — 239
- 7.6 Archbishop Michael Fitzgerald (2002–2005) – many unusual events — 241
- 8 Questionnaire on Mankind: too difficult to be made into a book — 242
- 8.1 Humanity’s calling: Servant of God – but how? — 242
- 8.2 Peace – difficult in many respects — 243
- 8.3 Social inequality – for Islam an evil — 245

- 8.4 Family issues: the controversial problem of birth control — 245
- 8.5 Industrialisation and the dispute about secularisation — 246
- 8.6 Human freedom – differing priorities — 247
- 8.7 Individuals and transcendental collectivism in the Islamic community — 248
- 8.8 All people are brothers – or not entirely? — 249
- 8.9 Life after death: a certainty — 250
- 9 Not anthropology is problematic, but its concrete effects — 250
- Notes — 251

III The Christian-Muslim Dialogues — 272

- 1 The beginnings and basic structures — 272
- 1.1 Rome 1972 – an unintentional dialogue — 272
- 1.2 Grottaferrata 1975: a key role for the dialogue with Islam — 273
- 1.3 Challenges of the dialogue and how it was presented — 276
- 1.4 After some time: wishes addressed to the Muslims and small steps backwards — 277
- 2 Contacts with Saudi Arabia – working session on human rights — 278
- 3 Contacts with the World Islamic Call Society, Tripoli, Libya — 279
- 3.1 The very first dialogue: Tripoli 1976 — 279
- 3.2 A new beginning from 1989 onwards: also many anthropological elements — 292
- 3.3 Malta 1990: the importance of tolerance — 293
- 3.4 Tripoli 1993 – religion and mass media: a joint supervisory committee — 300
- 3.5 Continuation in Vienna in 1994: still more common commitment — 301
- 3.6 Rome 1997: the subject of mission raises many questions — 301
- 3.7 Tripoli 2002: dialogues between evaluation and concepts of the future — 303
- 4 Muslims in Europe – familiar demands in a difficult situation — 304
- 5 Dialogue on the question of spirituality: the thirst for God — 306
- 5.1 Holiness from a Muslim point of view — 307
- 5.2 Holiness from a Christian point of view — 312
- 5.3 The mutual criticism — 314
- 6 Relationships with Turkey – strong academic cooperation — 317

7	Cooperation with the Al Albait Foundation — 319
7.1	Beginning with religious education — 319
7.2	Amman 1990 on children's rights: from the unborn to school children — 344
7.2.1	The rights of the unborn — 344
7.3	Rome 1992: women in society — 365
7.4	Amman 1994: nationalism — 386
7.5	Rome 1996 – using the resources of the earth rightly — 412
7.6	The last dialogue conference for the time being – Amman 1997 — 436
8	Contacts with the Secretariat for Inter-religious Dialogue, Tehran — 463
8.1	The beginnings still under the Shah — 463
8.2	A dialogue on the theological evaluation of modernity — 464
8.3	A dialogue on religious plurality – continuation needed — 467
8.4	A dialogue on youth and many old questions — 468
9	Islamic-Catholic Liaison Committee — 469
9.1	The creation of the Islamic-Catholic Liaison Committee — 469
9.2	The first meeting in Cairo – issues can only be touched on — 470
9.3	The second meeting in Rabat: many delicate points — 470
9.4	The third meeting: very anthropological issues — 471
9.5	The fourth meeting: the culture of dialogue and religious values — 472
9.6	The further development: less issues, more discussion — 472
9.7	Surprising unanimity on the Holy Land: “two state” solution — 474
9.8	Human dignity and human rights in armed conflicts — 474
10	Joint Dialogue Committee with the Al-Azhar University — 475
10.1	The first contacts with Al-Azhar — 475
10.2	The founding agreement — 477
10.3	The development of the cooperation: better and better despite difficulties — 477
10.4	The witness of the Al-Azhar at the prayers for peace in Assisi in 2002 — 479
10.5	Meeting in 2002 – a start with activities against religious extremism — 479
11	Regional dialogues — 481
11.1	The regional dialogues: an activity of the whole Church from the very beginning — 481

11.2	North Africa in 1988 – also possible stimuli for others —	481
11.3	West Africa in 1991 – the decisive point: democracy —	483
11.4	South East Asia in 1994 —	484
12	Future prospects: difficult but still hopeful —	488
	Notes —	489

IV Evaluation — 529

1	The statements of the magisterium —	529
1.1	The Second Vatican Council and its time —	529
1.2	The official statements by the magisterium —	530
1.3	The magisterium of Paul VI —	531
1.4	The magisterium of John Paul II —	531
1.5	Documents from the Curia —	537
2	The Secretariat's own publications —	538
2.1	The basic starting point —	538
2.2	Publications of the Commission for Religious Relations with Muslims —	539
2.3	Additional publications of the Pontifical Council for Interreligious Dialogue —	557
3	The Christian-Muslim dialogues —	558
3.1	The beginnings —	558
3.2	Dialogues with Libya —	560
3.3	The European situation in the dialogue —	567
3.4	Dialogue on holiness —	567
3.5	Dialogues with the Royal Academy for Islamic Civilization Research, Jordan —	569
3.6	Dialogue with Iran —	596
3.7	Islamic-Catholic Liaison Committee —	597
3.8	Dialogues with the Al-Azhar University —	598
3.9	Regional dialogues —	600
3.10	After 40 years of dialogue and September 11 th —	604
4	Final remarks —	604

Bibliography — 606

Index — 641