Die digitale Transformation der Logistik aus menschenzentrierter Perspektive

Sven Winkelhaus

Abstract.....	3
1 Einleitung	3
2 Theoretische Grundannahmen.....	5
3 Die Entwicklung von Logistik 4.0 als Konsequenz aus Industrie 4.0.....	6
4 Arbeitsplatzzufriedenheit und menschengerechte Arbeitsgestaltung in der digitalen Transformation.....	8
4.1 Die Beeinflussung von Arbeitszufriedenheit durch Digitalisierung und Automatisierung	8
4.2 Menschenzentrierte Arbeitsplatzgestaltung im Kontext von Industrie 4.0 und Logistik 4.0.....	11
5 Kommissionierung in Zeiten technologischen Wandels.....	14
5.1 Was ist Kommissionierung 4.0?	14
5.2 Hybride Kommissionierung – ein Ansatz mit Potenzial	16
6 Fazit	18

Real-time information for disruption management in intermodal freight transport

Per Wide

Abstract.....	23
1 Introduction	23
Purpose and research questions	25
2 Frame of reference.....	27
2.1 Approaches to manage disruptions.....	27
2.2 Focus on managing disruptions in the thesis.....	28
2.3 Recovery actions in intermodal freight transport.....	29
2.4 Connecting coordination and disruption management.....	29

2.5	The phases of disruption management.....	30
2.6	Synthesis of the studied literature	31
3	Research methodology	32
4	Discussion	33
4.1	RQ1: How does real-time information support disruption management in intermodal freight transport?.....	34
4.2	RQ 2: How does coordination influence the availability of real-time information for disruption management in intermodal freight transport? ...	36
4.3	RQ 3: What are the efficiency effects of real-time information on disruption management in intermodal freight transport?	37
4.4	Discussion on thesis contribution to purpose	38
4.5	Theoretical contributions	39
4.6	Practical contributions.....	40
5	Conclusions	41
	List of papers included in the thesis.....	43
	References.....	43

Implementation of Innovative Public Procurement:

Conceptual foundation, success factors and recommendations for action

Markus Schaupp

Abstract.....	49
1 Introduction	49
1.1 Motivation.....	49
1.2 Major research goal and article structure.....	50
2 Scientific foundation and conceptual groundwork of Innovative Public Procurement	51
3 Conceptual contributions from strategy implementation theory and derivation of an IPP implementation model.....	55
3.1 Relevant constituents of strategy implementation	55
3.2 IPP implementation levers.....	57
4 Research design and statistical validation of the hypothesized interrelationships of IPP implementation	59
5 Conclusion.....	61
5.1 Operational implications for the management of public procurement functions.....	63
5.2 Scientific implications for IPP research and limitations of the study.....	65
References	66

Supply chain power structures – qualitative contributions on the influence of digitalization on power allocations along the supply chain

Janosch Brinker, Hans-Dietrich Haasis

Abstract.....	73
1 Introduction	73
2 Theoretical foundations of the concept of power and digitalization in SCM.....	75
3 Power in SCM – a qualitative research approach.....	77
3.1 Developing a concept of power in traditional and digital supply chains.....	78
3.2 Strategies to deal with power asymmetries in a digital environment.....	81
4 Conclusion	82
References.....	83

Mind the gap: An initial empirical analysis of the gap between corporate intentions and actions regarding sustainability (Extended abstract)

Ruth Schültken, Christoph Bode, Matthias Schlipf

Abstract.....	89
1 Introduction	89
2 Summary of findings	90
References.....	91

Local sourcing in response to Covid: Merely a theory from the ivory tower? An Austrian industry perspective

Uwe Brunner, Christian Baum, Christian Burkart, Martin Tschandl

Abstract.....	93
1 Introduction	93
2 Literature review	95
3 Research methodology	98
4 Results of the industry survey	102
5 Conclusion.....	109
References.....	112

How to do research on the future in purchasing and supply management (PSM): A literature review on the usage of futures studies in PSM

Christine Freye, Christian von Deimling, Michael Eßig

Abstract.....	117
1 Introduction	118
2 Conceptual background	119

2.1	Characterization of futures studies.....	119
2.2	Object in futures studies.....	120
2.3	Critique on futures studies	122
2.4	Institutionalization of futures studies	123
2.5	Assumptions in futures studies	123
2.6	Framework of studying the future from a future studies perspective.....	124
3	Methodology.....	126
4	Findings.....	129
4.1	Findings on the object of studying the future	129
4.2	Findings to the framework of studying the future	130
4.3	Findings to further directions for studying the future.....	131
4.4	Discussion and limitation	133
	Appendix I.....	136
	References.....	140

Decoupling of global supply chains: Drivers, constraints, and alternatives

Davide Burkhart, Christoph Bode, Kristian Peters

	Abstract.....	151
1	Introduction	151
2	Conceptual background	152
2.1	Inhouse and outsourced offshoring.....	152
2.2	Reshoring	153
2.3	Supply chain decoupling	154
3	Method	155
4	Results.....	157
4.1	Decoupling tendencies	157
4.2	Alternative approaches	161
5	Discussion.....	163
5.1	Theoretical implications.....	164
5.2	Managerial implications.....	164
5.3	Limitations and future research	165
	References.....	165

Identification of asymmetric information in the supplier–buyer relationship:

A structural review

Abdulaziz Mardenli, Dirk Sackmann

	Abstract.....	169
1	Introduction	170
2	Principal-agent theory	171
3	Methodical approach.....	174

4	Determination of information asymmetry influencing variables	177
4.1	Direct and indirect measurement methods for the determination of social as well as general information asymmetry influence variables	177
4.2	Management systems as information asymmetry influencing factors	180
4.3	Key performance indicators as information asymmetry influencing factors	186
4.4	In-label and out-of-label information as information asymmetry influencing factors	190
5	Additional information asymmetry influencing factors	194
5.1	General aspects as information asymmetry influencing variables	194
5.2	Reliability aspects as information asymmetry influencing factors.....	195
5.3	Price-performance aspects as information asymmetry influencing variables	195
5.4	Digitization aspects as information asymmetry influencing variables.....	195
5.5	Product technical aspects as information asymmetry influencing factors	196
5.6	Employment law and social aspects as information asymmetry influencing factors	196
5.7	Environmental aspects as information asymmetry influencing factors	197
6	Discussion and conclusion	197
	References	198

Influences of additive manufacturing on logistics subsystems – an empirical study

Alexander Bade, Marcel André Hoffmann, Rainer Lasch

Abstract	221
1 Introduction	221
2 Theoretical background	223
2.1 Basics of additive manufacturing.....	223
2.2 Functional principle of additive manufacturing.....	224
3 Methodology	224
3.1 Research approach and selection of interview experts	225
3.2 Data collection and analysis	226
4 Results of the empirical study	227
4.1 Impact on the logistic processes.....	227
4.2 Potentials and barriers.....	231
4.3 Necessary preconditions and implications for practice and further research	233
5 Conclusion and limitations	235

Einkauf 2030: Delphi-Studie zur Zukunft des Einkaufs

Ramona Niederschweiberer, Florian C. Kleemann

Abstract	239
1 Einleitung	239
2 Forschungsstand: Zukunft des Einkaufs	241
2.1 Literaturüberlick zur Zukunft des Einkaufs	241
2.2 Forschungsbedarf „Einkauf 2030“	244
3 Empirische Studie „Einkauf 2030“	247
3.1 Forschungsmethodik	247
3.2 Durchführung der Delphi-Befragung	248
3.3 Ergebnisse der Delphi-Befragung	249
4 Diskussion und Handlungsempfehlungen	255
4.1 Zusammenfassende Diskussion	255
