

Contents

List of Tables	IX
List of Figures	XI
List of Symbols	XIII
1 Introduction	1
1.1 Problem definition	1
1.2 A note on optimal tax theory	3
1.3 Aim and structure of this study	5
2 Optimal wealth transfer taxation: a review of existing literature	11
2.1 Motives for intergenerational wealth transfers	12
2.1.1 Unplanned bequests	13
2.1.2 Planned bequests	15
2.1.3 Capitalistic bequests	20
2.2 Normative analysis of intergenerational wealth transfer taxation .	22
2.2.1 Redistributive vs. allocative effects	22
2.2.2 Modeling optimal taxation of bequests	26
2.2.3 Implications for optimal bequest tax design	32
2.3 Political-economic analysis of intergenerational wealth transfer taxation	34
2.3.1 Politically optimal taxation of bequests	34
2.3.2 Extensions	37
2.4 Concluding remarks	40
3 Normative aspects of taxing capitalistic bequests	43
3.1 Life-cycle savings and family bequests – an explanation for transfers of the rich?	44
3.2 The Model	46
3.2.1 Individual optimum bequest decision	48
3.2.2 Social welfare	56
3.3 The existence of self-governed foundations	60

3.4	Concluding remarks	64
4	Political-economic aspects of taxing capitalistic bequests	67
4.1	Stylized facts	69
4.2	The Model	71
4.2.1	Economic equilibrium	74
4.2.2	Political equilibrium	75
4.3	Extensions	91
4.3.1	The economic power of the very rich	91
4.3.2	Aging societies	92
4.3.3	Policy commitment	94
4.4	Concluding remarks	95
5	Wealth transfer taxation in practice: a descriptive analysis	97
5.1	Wealth transfer taxation in the OECD countries	98
5.2	Inheritance taxation in Germany	101
5.3	Assessment of current bequest tax policy	104
6	Conclusion	109
6.1	Results of this study	109
6.2	Policy recommendations	111
	Bibliography	113