

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| List of Figures   | vii |
| List of Tables  | xi  |
| LISA PETERS AND ELAINE JACKSON  |     |
| Introduction  | I   |
| DAVID OSBALDESTIN   |     |
| 1 Yesterday's Tomorrows: A Throwaway History of Ephemera Studies            | 7   |
| SUSAN MAY   |     |
| 2 Trading on Fear of Purgatory: A Mass Printed Ticket to Tudor Popularity   | 35  |
| IAIN BEAVAN   |     |
| 3 Scottish Chapbooks, Their Woodcuts and Transient Print: Some Observations | 63  |
| ANETTE HAGAN  |     |
| 4 The Chapbooks Collection of Sir Walter Scott                              | 87  |
| DAVID ATKINSON  |     |
| 5 Bellman's and Lamplighter's Sheets  | 107 |
| DIANA PATTERSON   |     |
| 6 Parliamentary Rubbish, 1780–1830  | 131 |

FRANCESCA TANCINI

- 7 Virtually Indestructible: The Ephemeral Life of Victorian
Picturebooks for Children 153

ANTHONY QUINN

- 8 Fifty Years Too Early: George Newnes and his Colour
Magazine for the Masses 179

DEBORAH SUTHERLAND AND RUTH HIBBARD

- 9 'The Best of "Modern" Printed Design Can Be Found in Everyday Articles': Ephemera from the Baynard Press and Kynoch Press in the National Art Library's Jobbing Printing
Collection 201

ELAINE JACKSON

- 10 'I'd rather be good Bad than bad Good': Berta Ruck Writing
'Bad' Romance for Women's Magazines 225

Notes on Contributors 251

Index 255