Contents

Béatrice Priego-Valverde
Introduction —— 1

Part 1: Face-to-face interactions

Aliyah Morgenstern, Christelle Dodane and Marie Leroy-Collombel
1 A multimodal approach to children's development of humor in family life —— 15

Clarissa de Vries, Bert Oben and Geert Brône
2 On target. On the role of eye-gaze during teases in face-to-face multiparty interaction —— 53

Elisa Gironzetti
3 Humorous Smiling: A Reverse Cross-Validation of the Smiling Intensity Scale for the Identification of Conversational Humor —— 87

Hilal Ergül, Shelby Miller, Salvatore Attardo and Kevin Kramer
4 Alternative conceptualizations of the Smiling Intensity Scale (SIS) and their applications to the identification of humor —— 109

Béatrice Priego-Valverde and Stéphane Rauzy
5 Facial gestures and laughter as a resource for negotiating humor in conversation —— 131

Thomas Kiderle, Hannes Ritschel, Silvan Mertes and Elisabeth André
6 Multimodal humor in human-robot interaction —— 169

Part 2: Mediated interactions

Sabina Tabacaru
7 Facial expressions as multimodal markers of humor: More evidence from scripted and non-scripted interactions —— 209

Bibliografische Informationen
https://d-nb.info/127985801X

digitalisiert durch DEUTSCHE NATIONAL BIBLIOTHEK

Jia Qiu, Xinren Chen and Michael Haugh
8 Emojis and jocular flattery in Chinese instant messaging interactions — 231

Agnese Sampietro
9 More than laughter: Multimodal humour and the negotiation of in-group identities in mobile instant messaging interactions — 263

Kerry Mullan
10 Humour and creativity in a family of strangers on Facebook — 289

Villy Tsakona
11 "Loanword translation and corrective acts are incongruous": Debating metapragmatic stereotypes through humorous memes — 319

Index — 355