

Contents

Preface 9

Christofer Jost

What are aesthetic concepts and what defines their role in popular culture? 11

HISTORY, THEORY AND METHODOLOGY

Konstantin Jahn

Emancipation of ugliness: The skew, the slant, the howling and yelping
How avant-garde’s reception of early jazz established popular aesthetics 29

Bernd Hoffmann

Amateurs with day-jobs
The consolidation of aesthetic value systems in West German jazz in the 1950s and early 1960s: The television series Jazz – gehört und gesehen 41

Henry Keazor

“MAD, (...) the first post-modern work (...) in our culture”?
On white giants, standing on the shoulders of dirty dwarfs 53

Kaspar Maase

Does empirical research on popular culture require aesthetical theory, and if so, what kind of aesthetic theory? 75

Benjamin Burkhart

Popular music aesthetics and multimodal discourse analysis
On the negotiation of reggae and dancehall in music journalism and diversity as a concept 85

ANALYSES

Willem Strank

At the hinge between retrospect and topicality

The transmedia reboot as an aesthetic practice and typological challenge 103

Tatiana Astafeva

Aestheticizing bad old days

Retro in the German Ostalgie cinema of the 1990s and 2000s 113

Simon Rehbach

Retro and aesthetic forms of scratches and glitches in music videos 123

Steffen Just

Camp as historical condition

On popular music, queerness and neoliberal subjectivity 135

Kathrin Dreckmann

Camp and pop

David Bowie, Oskar Schlemmer, Madonna and Janelle Monáe 153

Axel Schmidt

Doing Wabi Sabi

How theater producers introduce and use aesthetic concepts 165

Laura Schwinger

“A recording studio that even NASA can’t match”

Space disco and electronic music as a novum 187

Florian Völker

Cold pop

The revival of the “cold conduct” in German pop music 205

Nils Kirschlager, Christoph Jacke

Uncool cowboys in low-low-land?

Public perception and aesthetics of the German country music scene 217

Stephanie Herold
Sublime, kitschy, atmospheric Aesthetic practices of Urban Explorers between aestheticization and the “authentic” expression of feeling 229

Liane Wilhelmus
“Recreate artworks with your friends”
The practice of photographic restaging in social media 241

On the contributors to this book 261