

Contents

- 1 “Military Intelligence”
 - Coalition Enforcement and the Evolutionary Origin of Morality and Violence 1
 - 1.1 Philosophy: The Luxurious Supplement of Violence 1
 - 1.1.1 Individual and Structural Violence 2
 - 1.1.2 Psychiatrization and Dehistoricization of Violence ... 5
 - 1.1.3 Victims and Media 6
 - 1.1.4 Philosophy and Violence 7
 - 1.2 Defining Violence: Violence Is Distributed and Always “Perceived” as Such 10
 - 1.2.1 Decent Violent People 11
 - 1.2.2 Honor and Institutional Cultures 12
 - 1.2.3 Defining Violence..... 16
 - 1.2.4 Various Kinds of Violence 19
 - 1.3 Coalition Enforcement: Morality and Violence..... 20
 - 1.3.1 Abduction, Respecting People as Things, and Animals as Moral Mediators 20
 - 1.3.2 Coalition Enforcement Hypothesis 23
 - 1.3.3 The Origin of Moral/Social Norms, Social Dominance Hierarchies and Violence 28
 - 1.3.4 Cooperation, Altruism, and Punishment: An Epistemological Note 31
- 2 The Violent Nature of Language
 - Language Is a Tool Exactly Like a Knife 35
 - 2.1 The Violent Nature of Language: Abduction, Pregnances, Affordances 35
 - 2.1.1 Saliences and Pregnances..... 36

2.1.2	Pregnances as Eco-Cognitive Forms: The Naturalness of Proto-Morality and Violence	38
2.1.3	Mental and Mindless Semiosis and the Formation of Language, Habits, and Violent Conflicts	41
2.1.4	Violence: "Vocal and Written Language Is a Tool Exactly Like a Knife"	47
2.1.5	The Role of Abduction in the Moral/Violent Nature of Language	52
2.2	The Awesome and Perverse Academic Face of the Relationships between Morality and Violence	56
2.2.1	Perversion, Violence, and Narcissism	59
2.2.2	Ad Ignorantiam Fallacy as a Semantic Attack	60

3 Moral Bubbles: Legitimizing and Dissimulating Violence

	Distributing Violence through Fallacies	65
3.1	Violence, Language, and "Writing"	65
3.2	Fallacies as Distributed "Military" Intelligence	69
3.2.1	Epistemic Bubbles: Distributing Aggressive Fallacies	73
3.2.2	Morality and Moral Bubbles: Legitimizing and Dissimulating Violence	76
3.2.3	Gossip, Morality, and Violence	78
3.2.4	Judging Violence: Abductive Fallacy Evaluation and Assessment	81
3.3	The Semiotic Emergence of Violence through Deception	84
3.3.1	Fireflies and Luminescent "Femmes Fatales"	84
3.3.2	Moral Hazard as the Violent Perverting of Cooperation	87
3.4	The Violent Force of Law and of Morality	90
3.4.1	Lawmaking and Law-Preserving Violence	92
3.5	Ochlocracy: Violently Perverting Democracy and Its Values	93
3.5.1	Wisdom of the Crowd or Violent Tyranny of the Crowd?	93
3.5.2	Ochlocracy as the Perverting of Sympathy	100
3.6	Beyond 9/11. Democrats, Speak Out! Would You Like to Be Terrified or Deterred?	104
3.6.1	The Widespread Violence against Rechtsstaat and Democracy	104
3.6.2	What Westerners Want (When They Do Not Like Constitutional Democracies Anymore)	107
3.6.3	The "Paradox of the Insider Enemy"	110
3.7	Bad News from Evolutionary Game Theory	112

4 Moral and Violent Mediators

Delegating Ourselves to External Things:

Moral/Violent Niches	115
4.1 Cognitive Niches as Moral Niches	115
4.1.1 Human Beings as Chance Seekers	115
4.1.2 Cognitive Niches as Carriers of Aggressiveness	117
4.1.3 Cognitive Niches as Moral Niches	121
4.2 “A Sense of Purposefulness” in Evolution: Copying with Maladaptive Artifactual Niches	124
4.3 Distributing Morality and Violence through Cognitive Niche Construction	129
4.4 Moral Mediators as Conflict Makers and Triggers for Structural Violence	130
4.4.1 Moral Mediators	131
4.4.2 Moral Mediators and Structural Violence	135
4.5 Collective Axiologies as Moral Niches, and the Derived Violent Conflicts	137
4.5.1 Nonviolent Moral Axiologies, Pacifism, and Violence	141
4.5.2 What Does the Micro-sociological Theory of Violence Teach Us?	143
4.6 Building Violent Niches through Bullshit Mediators	146
4.6.1 Degrading Truth: Bullshit as a Violent Mediator	146
4.6.2 Deception through Confabulating about Truth	148
4.7 Violence and the Right and the Duty to Information and Knowledge	152
4.7.1 Why Epistemology Matters to Violence?	156
4.8 Constructing Morality through Psychic Energy Mediators	158
4.8.1 Moralizing Nature, Moralizing Minds	158
4.8.2 Cognitive/Affective/Moral Delegations to Artifacts and Subsequent Reinternalization	161
4.8.3 Artifacts as Memory, Moral, and Violent Mediators	163
4.8.4 Maximizing Abducibility of Morality through Symbols	165
4.8.5 Cultured Unconscious and Sacrifices	168

5 Multiple Individual Moralities May Trigger Violence

Engaging and Disengaging Morality	171
5.1 Multiple Individual” Moralities: Is “Moral Disengagement” in the Perpetration of Inhumanities a Reengagement of Another Morality?	171

5.1.1	Reengagement of Another Morality	176
5.1.2	Kant and the “Inverted Stoicism”	180
5.2	Pure Evil?	182
5.2.1	Criminal Psychopaths’ Morality and Ethicocentrism	184
5.2.2	Mental Incapacity and the Fear of Decriminalization	188
5.2.3	Gene/Cognitive Niche Co-Evolution and Moral Decriminalization	191
5.2.4	Can We Freely Decide to Kill Our Free Will? What Is Crime Commodification?	197
5.3	Fascist Morality and Happy Violence: “The Fascist State of the Mind”	203
5.3.1	Ideology as a Disguised Violent Ethos	205
5.3.2	The Fascist “Infinite Morality” as a Violent Moral Void	207
5.3.3	Intellectual Genocide: Killing Opponents’ Cognitive Niches	209
5.3.4	Culture of Hatred and Inculcation, and the Moral “Banality of Evil”	213
5.3.5	Evil and Trauma	216
5.4	The Fascist Arguer and His Fallacious Dimensions	219
5.4.1	Negating the Truth	220
5.4.2	Negating the Opponent and Moral Niche Impoverishment	225
5.5	The Perversity of “Respecting People as Things” in Wars and the Role of Bad Faith	231

6 Religion, Morality, and Violence

	Faith, Violent Mediators, Overmoralization	235
6.1	Is Religion Violent? Faith and Its Pervertibility	235
6.1.1	Theological Violent Argumentations	241
6.2	Religion as a Natural Phenomenon	246
6.2.1	Religious Moral Carriers, Religious Violent Carriers	248
6.2.2	Rendering Human Behavior Predictable through Religion and Morality	252
6.2.3	Religion Is Easy: Religion Is Violent	255
6.3	From Magical Thinking to Religion: Bubbles and Cognitive Firewalls	261
6.4	Sacred and Sacrifice: The Violent Boundaries of Magic	268
6.5	Overmorality and Wisdom: Morality or Indifference?	272
6.5.1	Escaping Overmorality?	276
6.5.2	The Ostrich Effect: The Limits of Docility	279

6.6	How Can Forgiveness Be Violent? The Ideal of Mercy and Its Discontents	282
6.6.1	Forgiveness Is Multidimensional	284
6.6.2	Moral Viscosity and the Ultimate Paradox of Forgiveness	289
Conclusion	295
References	297
Index	321