

Table of Contents

Introduction

Managing Migration in Italy and the United States — 1

Part 1: The Freedom to Move Then and Now

Mark I. Choate

Chapter 1

Liberal Economics or Racial Exclusion: Competing Political and Cultural Narratives in Italian American Transatlantic Migration — 19

Matteo Pretelli

Chapter 2

Serving the Patria? Italian Americans, Returning Migrants, and the Politics of Citizenship in Liberal and Fascist Italy — 37

Eleanor Paynter

Chapter 3

Creating Crises: Risk, Racialization, and the Migration-Security Nexus in Italy and the US — 55

Part 2: Policing the Threat of Italian Migration

Matthew Guariglia

Chapter 4

Italian Immigration and the US Turn to International Policing — 79

Alice Ciulla

Chapter 5

Managing Political Migration in US-Italian Relations: The Case of Vincenzo Vacirca — 91

Marie-Christine Michaud

Chapter 6

Italians, Racial Nativism, and the Quota Laws in the United States — 111

Part 3: From the Regional to the Transnational

Lauren Braun-Strumfels and Clara Zaccagnini

Chapter 7

Testing the Limits of Italian and US Migration Law: The 1904 Liguria Incident in New Orleans — 135

Daniele Fiorentino

Chapter 8

Theodore Roosevelt's Foreign Policy and the "Problem" of Italian Immigration — 155

Guido Bonsaver and Alice Gussoni

Chapter 9

From Sicily to Louisiana: Early Migration and Historiographical Issues — 171

Linda Reeder

Epilogue

Managing Migration, Surveillance, and Mobility — 191

Authors — 203

Index — 207