

Contents

1	Introduction — 1
2	The Problem — 3
2.1	The Burden of an Anachronistic Economic System — 3
2.1.1	Falsifying Balance Sheets — 3
2.1.2	Bank Account Manipulation — 4
2.1.3	Inventory — 4
2.1.4	Illegal Price Fixing — 5
2.1.5	Bribes — 6
2.2	Existing Conceptualizations of Ethics Are Insufficient — 6
2.3	Morality Cannot Be Legislated — 9
2.4	Individuals as Instruments of Societal Change — 10
2.5	Synchronicity — 10
2.5.1	“ETHICS ARE MORE IMPORTANT THAN RELIGION” — 11
2.5.2	Laudato Si: On Care for Our Common Home — 13
2.6	Why We Urgently Need a Business Ethics 3.0 — 14
2.7	What Was Business Ethics 1.0 — 15
2.8	What Is Business Ethics 2.0 — 16
2.8.1	Ethics and Talent Management — 17
2.9	What Is Business Ethics 3.0 — 18
2.10	Our Ego-Dominated Mind — 19
2.11	Integrative Business Ethics — 19
2.12	Being Responsible Is Profitable — 22
2.13	Depth Psychology Creates New Directions — 23
2.14	Clark’s Analysis and Proposals for the Twentieth Century — 24
2.15	Managing Ourselves — 27
2.16	Global Economic Ethics Manifesto — 30
2.17	People in Companies: The Essential Moral Factor — 31
2.18	REASON as an Anchor for Ethics and Morality — 32
2.18.1	The Abuse and Decline of REASON — 34
2.18.2	The Leap from Mind to an Ethic of REASON — 35
2.18.3	Friedrich Schiller’s Freedom of REASON — 38
2.18.4	Promoting the Faculty of REASON within Individuals — 38
2.19	OECD Guidelines Are Seriously Misguided — 42
2.20	Educating the Whole Person — 44
2.21	Our Society Is Unhealthy for Children’s Souls — 45
2.22	Is It All about Performance — 49
2.23	Decoding Leadership: What Really Matters — 50
2.24	The Broken Elite — 50
2.25	Business Ethics: The Lost Generation — 52

2.26	Expanding the Status quo is Insufficient for Ethical Development —	54
2.27	The Business School Approach to Ethics —	54
2.28	The Power of Ethical Management —	57
2.29	Wisdom 2.0: Hope for the Younger Generation —	59
2.30	Inviting Greater Peace into Our Lives —	61
2.31	Happiness, Bliss and Compassion —	62
2.32	Beyond Happiness: Bhutan's Philosophy of Gross National Happiness —	64
2.33	The CEO of the Future —	67
2.34	The Philosophical and Christian Vision of Ethics —	70
2.34.1	The Golden Rule of Ethics —	71
2.34.2	The Principle of Double Effect —	71
2.35	An Appeal from Pope Francis for Ethics and Morality —	73
2.36	As Individuals We Must Find Our Own Way —	76
2.37	Mysticism and Ethics —	77
2.38	What Constitutes a Whole Person —	80
2.39	Corporate Leaders and Psychology —	82
2.40	Depth Psychology and Integrity —	83
2.40.1	The Red Book of C.G. Jung —	85
2.40.2	The Contemporary Meaning of the Red Book —	87
2.40.3	Depth Psychology and the New Ethic —	88
2.40.4	The Old Ethic —	90
2.40.5	Suppression and Repression of the Dark Side —	90
2.40.6	Stages of Ethical Development —	92
2.40.7	The New Ethic —	93
2.40.8	Aims and Values of the New Ethic —	95
2.40.9	Depth Psychology in Leadership —	95
2.41	The Milgram Experiment on Obedience to Authority —	97
2.42	Moral Licensing for Immorality —	99
2.43	Ethics from the Perspective of Quantum Physics —	100
2.44	Making Living More Lively —	101
2.45	Embracing Uncertainty May Enhance Our Ethical Practices: Lowering Our Entropy —	102
2.46	Radius to Ethics Break —	107
3	The Solution —	108
3.1	Allowing Our Inner Growth to Develop —	108
3.1.1	Growth through Individuation —	109
3.1.1.1	What Is Individuation —	110
3.1.1.2	Requirements for the Process of Individuation —	111
3.1.1.3	The Benefits of Achieving Individuation —	111
3.1.2	Listening to Our Dreams —	112

3.1.3	Activating Our Imagination — 113
3.1.4	Reconciliation with the Dark Brother — 115
3.1.5	Designation of the Evil — 116
3.1.6	Anima and Animus Balance — 117
3.2	Growth through Spiritual Wisdom — 118
3.2.1	Meditation as a Daily Practice — 120
3.2.2	Meditation on Compassion Manifests in Your Brain — 121
3.2.3	Opportunities for Increasing Awareness through Mindfulness — 122
3.2.3.1	From Work-Life Balance towards Life-Balance — 123
3.2.3.2	Nature — 126
3.2.3.3	Music and Art — 126
3.2.3.4	Sports — 129
3.2.3.5	Dance — 129
3.2.3.6	Religion — 130
3.2.3.7	Meeting People — 130
3.2.3.8	Illness and Suffering — 131
3.2.3.9	Daily Life — 133
3.3	Growth by Quantum Physics — 134
3.3.1	Practicing the Loving Dialogue — 137
3.3.2	Business Ethics through Quantum Physics — 138
3.4	Integral Consciousness — 140
3.5	Integral Spirituality — 141
3.6	Transpersonal Psychotherapy — 142
3.7	Psychology and Spirituality — 142
3.8	Integral Business Ethics 3.0 — 143
3.9	An Integrative Business Ethic — 143
3.10	Diversions — 144
3.11	Distractions — 145
3.12	Relaxation from Mindfulness — 146
3.13	Blockages of Individuation — 147
3.13.1	The Fall — 148
3.13.2	The Loss — 149
3.13.3	The Return — 149
3.13.4	Distractions Are Detrimental: C.G. Jung’s Visions — 150
3.13.5	The Tragedy of Modern Distractions — 151
4	The Application — 154
4.1	Applying and Sustaining Business Ethics 3.0 in the Economy — 154
4.1.1	Sustainable Personal Responsibility — 155
4.1.2	Developing Ourselves — 155
4.1.3	Assisting Others in Their Development — 157
4.1.4	What We Can Learn from Social Entrepreneurs — 159

XIV — Contents

4.1.5	New Sustainable Relationships with Our Supervisors —	161
4.1.6	New Sustainable Relationships with Our Colleagues —	161
4.1.7	New Sustainable Relationships with Outside Partners —	162
4.2	Sustainable Corporate Responsibility (SCR) —	162
4.3	Moral vs Morality —	166
4.4	Measuring the Return on Character —	166
4.5	Power and the Abuse of Power —	168
4.6	Disruption and Ethics —	173
4.7	Organization and Structure —	175
4.8	Wise Leaders —	177
4.9	Integration of the Dark Side in Organizations —	182
4.10	Strategies: Mergers and Acquisitions, Divestitures and Investments —	183
4.11	Taxation of International Groups —	185
4.12	Sustainable Supply Chain Responsibility —	186
4.13	Sustainable Customer Bonding —	188
4.14	Sustainable Competitor Relations —	188
4.15	Ethical Consumerism —	188
4.15.1	Sustainable Ethical Consumerism —	190
4.16	Sustainable Environmental Responsibility —	191
4.16.1	The Volkswagen Scandal —	194
4.16.2	The Chemical Industry —	199
4.16.2.1	Minamata Disease —	200
4.16.2.2	Three Mile Island —	201
4.16.2.3	The Hague Code of Ethics —	202
4.17	Intuition, Creativity, Innovation: Gifts from Within —	209
4.18	Resilience: An Essential Quality —	215
4.19	Summary of Current Studies on the Effect of Mindful Meditation —	217
4.19.1	Brain and Immune Function —	217
4.19.2	Anxiety and Depression —	217
4.19.3	Stress Reduction and Management —	218
4.19.4	Coronary Heart Disease —	218
4.19.5	Pain and Quality of Life —	218
4.19.6	Depression —	219
4.19.7	Mindfulness and Medical and Psychological Health —	219
5	Reflections by Richard Warrington —	220
6	Closing Remark from C.G Jung —	226
	References —	227